

A SHARED CALLING

New life that sits within

Calling upon the Creator spirit ever giving gifts of anew in abundance

Let us kani (speak)
Let us krakani (sit) Let us weave the stories holding every laritja (thread) of creation in our takila (heart) Let us stop to breathe in all that surrounds and abounds us

All of creation
All of the natural landscape
All the ancient wisdom of first peoples on the Lands they now call Australia

Let us call upon the ancestors
Call upon the story lines
Call to the song lines

Stories of a long time ago
Stories of now
Stories of tomorrow Woven and etched across these Lands

The Lands that weep for healing
The Land that will heal
A birth
A beginning
A whole
A forever story

May the resilience
May the struggle
May the survival May the justice and injustice of these lands speak

Call us to speak to justice
To heal
To walk with those on the edge To be present in the stories that connect us all Protect us all

The Creator spirit forever present in these lands before 1788 are calling us all to weave the Creators call to be

A woven collective in the birth of all, the sacrifice that sits in and with us as First and Second Peoples

Know
Show
Heal
Rejoice in the hope of new life

Praise be to the Creator
Thanks be to the UAICC
The takila of the UCA

BY ALISON OVEREEM (SMITH)
NOVEMBER, 2021